- b) Holders of a bachelor's degree in the fields referred to in sub-paragraph a), holders of a particularly relevant academic or scientific curriculum that is recognized as attesting capacity to carry out this cycle of studies by the Academic Board of the Faculty of Economics, in the fields referred to under (a);

c) Holders of a scholar, scientific or professional curriculum that is recognized as attesting to the capacity to carry out this cycle of studies by the Academic Board of the Faculty of Economics of the University of Coimbra.

2 - The recognition referred to in subparagraphs b) and c) of paragraph 1 only allows access to the cycle of studies leading to a PhD Degree and does not grant its holder the recognition or equivalence to a Bachelor's or Master's Degree.

NOTE: Regarding assessment for this course, admission to the preparation of the thesis depends on obtaining 60 ECTS in the curricular units, as well as on the approval of a thesis project (Curricular Unit Dissertation Project) by a jury appointed for that purpose.

The classification of the curricular units will be given on a scale of 0 to 20 values. It is considered that the student is proficient if he obtains a classification equal or higher than 10 values.

5. Selection criteria:

1.1 Academic Curriculum: Undergraduate Degree (Weighting 3/10):

The score in this criterion takes into account the final classification of the degree and the affinity of its area with that of the doctoral programme, namely regarding quantitative subjects included. If the degree is not considered related, this may be a reason for rejecting applications;

1.2 Academic curriculum: Master's degree (Weighting 3/10):

The score in this criterion takes into account the final classification of the master's degree and the affinity of its area with that of the doctoral program, namely regarding quantitative subjects included. If the master's degree is not considered related, this may be a reason for rejecting applications;

2. Curriculum Vitae: Publications / Research / Other Academic Training (includes an interview, if necessary), (Weighting 2/10):

The score in this criterion takes into account:

- Scientific publications in areas related to the doctorate's field, namely articles in journals, chapters of books and minutes of congresses. The recognition of the quality of the magazine, publisher and congress will also be relevant.
- Participation in research funded projects and role played in the project team.
- Other post-graduate studies in fields related to the PhD programme.
- Training in the fields of economics, management, engineering or mathematics that have provided proficiency in the use of quantitative models and methods, as well as computer tools, for decision making.

- Professional experience in an area related to the PhD program.
- Knowledge of English.

Jury:

- João Paulo Faria Oliveira Costa (President of the Jury)
- Rui Pedro Santos Lourenço
- Luís Miguel Cândido Dias

3. Motivation and research area of interest/Profile of Applicant (includes, if necessary, an Interview) (Weight 2/10):

The score in this criterion takes into account:

- The motivation of the applicant.
- The subject field of the doctorate in which the candidate starts to develop research leading to the thesis (which may have already been organized with a potential advisor).
- The expected time of dedication to the doctorate.
- The motivation letter and the text justifying the interest in the PhD.
- Performance in any doctoral programs previously attended.
